The Archbishop of Canterbury said they were face to face with a discussion of the whole subject, of which that was part, at no distant date, "and he believed there would be other and more suitable opportunities of handling questions of that farreaching character.

The Bishop of Hereford said it was obvious to every one that it would be inconvenient to have two heads of a family. On the other hand, they had to remember that our Marriage Service was drawn up in accordance with a state of things which was admittedly very different from that which existed at present.

Leave was given for the amendment to be withdrawn.

PRATER-BOOK REVISION. The Bishop of London moved an amendment to the proposal in the report of the Committee of the whole House with regard to the rubric concerning the Atbanusian Creed, providing that the "Athamasian Creed should be publicly sung as said on Trinity Sunday at morning and colleges. MORE CRUISERS FORESHADOWED Bentry, Feb. 20. Grand-Admiral von Tirpitz made a highly significant intervention this afternoon in the debate on the second reading of the Navy Estimates.

A National Liberal and a Conservative speaker had felt inspired, with reforence to the present South American sruiso, to make some remarks about the importunce of sending the German Navy abroad. Grand-Admiral von Tirpitz welcomed their utterances, and said :-There is no doubt whatever that the political and economic advantage of the appearance of our ships abroad is in many ask the Germans who live abroad. They will confirm the fact to the full. It not only an economic and political necessity for the to bestir ourselves in the foreign service, but it is also a military necessity. ' A great navy must be in constant touch with the ocean and with ocean conditions, and also with foreign conditions. If in recent years we have not done this in the measure that we could have desired, it has been due to circumstances which I need not discuss more closely. We needed a concentration in home waters corresponding with the Although there have been many Roys circumstances. We must, however, be more active with our Navy abroad. The BRITISH INDEMNITY CLAIMS. Only Direct Damages.

In the House of Commons on February 17, Mr. T. E. Harvey (Lib. Leeds W.) asked the Secretary for Foreign Affairs whether his attention had been called to the situation which had been created by the offer of the Republic of China to meet claims for compensation for direct damage to the property of foreigners during the military operations of 1911-12; whether a number of claims for indirect damage had been made; whether the British claim was at present confined to direct damages, but with the proviso that would be substantially increased if ther European Powers continued to pross claims based on indirect losses; and whether His Majesty's Government was supporting the appeal of the Chinese Government that the whole question be referred to the International Court of Ar-

It is the case that the British claim is confined to direct damages. I am not sware that the Chinese Government has made any appeal for arbitration. Mr. Harvey: In the event of such n appeal, will the right hon, gordeman use his good influence with the Powers? Sir. E. "Groy: I cannot make a definite promise. I will consider it if the question comes up. We are, of course, very, anxious that the olsims should all be on the same footing so far as we have,

> NIGHT LIFE" IN GERMAN. TOWNS.

A Demand for Legislation.

The Lower House of the Prussian Diet has adopted, after a long debate, a motion requiring the Government to employ all lawful means to check "the growing immorality, especially in the large icayna." The motion refers especially to obsours restaurants in which waitresses are employed, to bars, cabarets, and other institutions, demands a new law dealing with cinematograph exhibitions, and suggests a curtailment of the privileges accorded by the police authorities to places of entertainment.

There is not the least doubt that Teal, -Sui Ap Chai, night life " is flourishing extraordinarily throughout Germany, and there hardly a provincial town of any importance which has not got one or more dancing establishments open until the early morning. On the other hand, these establishments carry on their business under the flare of electric lighting, and, as the Socialista maintain, it is doubtful whether they contribute much to the promotion of vice. That they are detrimental to decent living, especially in the upper middle classes, is, however, hardly open to question,-
